

People are paying for xm radio so by xm providing the traffic and weather service is only providing the service to the million or two million in the country that pay their their hard earned cash for the convience of the serivce provided by XM. There are still of people that listen to fm, hell there are still people that watch non-cable non satellite television. That is all the Xm is an upgrade.